

SOCIAL and PERSONAL

THE wedding of Miss Margaretta Holmes McGuire, daughter of Mrs. Hunter Holmes McGuire and the late distinguished Confederate surgeon, Dr. H. H. McGuire, to Mr. Russell Cary Montague, of Lewisburg, W. Va., son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell W. Montague, was celebrated at noon yesterday in the home of the bride's mother, No. 513 East Grace Street.

The house was beautifully decorated in green and white. Southern amilax twining the stairway in the hall, and making a charming setting for masses of daisies, Easter lilies against palms and ferns were used in the drawing-rooms. The altar, with its green background, its fragrant flowers and its white wax tapers, occupied the center of the hall, and in the front room, where the officiating clergyman, Bishop Robert A. Gibson, the uncle of the bride, and the rev. Robert W. Forsyth, of St. Paul's Church, stood.

Professor Jacob Reinhardt had charge of the music. Dr. Hugh McGuire and Mr. Guy Davis formed the ribbon aisle, through which the bridal party passed to the altar.

The bride came in with her brother, Dr. Stuart McGuire, who gave her in marriage. She was dressed in white crepe faille, trimmed with duchesse and point lace; her tulle veil was held with sprays of lily of the valley, and she carried a slender bouquet of the lilies. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. George Arthur Gordon, of Savannah, who wore white moire chiffon and a picture hat with white plumes, and held in her hand a basket of lilies. The groom and his best man, Mr. Henry Mathews, of Lewisburg, followed.

A reception and breakfast for relatives and intimate friends followed the ceremony. A basket of lilies formed the centerpiece in the dining-room, candles with pale green silk shades under lilacs, making a pretty decorative finish.

Mrs. Hunter McGuire wore a handsome gown of black faille. Mrs. Hugh McGuire was in black hand-embroidered chiffon cloth. Mrs. Edward McGuire was in black crepe de chine, and Mrs. Russell Montague in pale gray messaline.

The bride and groom left at the afternoon for a Northern tour. They will have their future home in Lewisburg, W. Va. Guests from a distance present at the ceremony and reception were Mr. and Mrs. Russell Montague, Miss Margaret Prescott Montague, Mr. and Mrs. Elizabeth Hall, of Baltimore; Mrs. Harriet Prescott Spofford, Mrs. Pennington Montague and Miss Mary Spofford, of Washington; Miss Kate Davis, of West Virginia; Mrs. A. F. Robertson and the Misses Robertson, of Staunton; Dr. and Mrs. Hugh McGuire and Master Johnson McGuire, of Alexandria; Mr. and Mrs. W. Guy Davis, of Norfolk; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gordon, of Savannah; Mrs. Ruben Satterthwaite, of Wilmington, Del.; Mr. and Mrs. B. Tate Irvine, of Big Stone Gap; Dr. and Mrs. Lett McCormick, of Norfolk, and Mr. Mason Bell, of Lewisburg, W. Va.

Has Sailed for Europe. Mrs. William McCree Ramsay, of Westover, on James River, and her daughter, Miss Elizabeth Ramsay, passed through Richmond Tuesday evening on their way to New York. They sailed yesterday on the Oceanic for London, to remain abroad some months.

Now at Winchester Inn. Mr. and Mrs. Philip Alexander Bruce have given up their home in Lexington, which they occupied during the past winter. They are now with their little daughter, Philippa, at Winchester Inn, in Winchester. In the autumn they will make their permanent home in Norfolk.

Hostesses This Afternoon. The refreshment room, under the auspices of the Pansy Circle, at No. 291 East Franklin Street, continues to be well patronized. The hostesses for this afternoon from 4:30 to 7 o'clock will be Mrs. G. W. Gentry, Mrs. J. W. Stafford Parker, Miss Lizzie Brander and Miss Katherine Young.

On Her Way Home. Miss Evelyn Byrd Harrison spent the night in Richmond, en route from Brandon, her grandmother's home, to Washington. She left for Washington by the noon train yesterday. Mrs. Randolph Cuyler, who accompanied Miss Harrison from Brandon to Richmond, will return to Brandon in a few days.

At Woman's Exchange. Delicious jellies, preserves and marinated are now offered for sale at the Exchange rooms for Woman's Work, corner of Franklin and Third Streets, at greatly reduced rates. All housewives needing delicacies to tempt their palates, can find an excellent opportunity to replenish pantry shelves rendered bare by constant demand, and can fill them at minimum cost and trouble to themselves.

Tickets Selling Well. Tickets for the excursion to Williamsburg on Saturday, under the chaperonage of Mrs. D. T. Williams and Mrs. W. J. Johnson, are selling well.

Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Johnson represent the Commonwealth Chapter and the Virginia Home for Incurables, and the excursion will be for the benefit of the chapter and home. The train will leave the Richmond Station at 9 A. M. and return at a comfortable hour in the evening.

Excursionists can visit Jamestown from Williamsburg if they wish.

FAIRCE WELL PRESENTED. Clever Production Given at Stonewall Jackson Institute.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] ARBON, VA., May 6.—A large crowd was in the assembly hall of the Stonewall Jackson Institute Monday evening when the Alpha Beta Phi Society presented a farce of Miss Alice Caldwell's comedy, entitled "An Olympian Touchdown." Cleverness and originality showed throughout the six scenes. As the name indicates, the scene was laid on Mount Olympus, where immortals met mortals in a most familiar fashion. Jupiter had incensed Juno and her train by turning their ambrosial locks as black as Erebus, because of their disobedience and curiosity. The goddesses sulked in their own apartments, and Jove was really having a very lonesome time when there came to Mount Olympus an aerial-aquatic automobile. Kate, the Dixie Girl, her lover, Dick, a football fiend, a daff chauffeur and the indomitable Yankee chaperone. Having heard of the most wonderful kick-off on record, when Jove kicked Vulcan out of heaven, they had come to persuade Jove to join Dick's football team in a game for the championship of America. Jove's sentimental fancy for the Dixie Girl made him confess the plight of being unable to restore the hair of the goddesses to its natural color. The Yankee chaperone came to the rescue with a recipe for blonde, and a reconciliation was effected on Mount Olympus. Other immortals could have been recognized without a program, the high-tempered and quarrelsome Juno, Pandora with her jeweled box, and her propensity for mischief-making, a veritable Venus, Vulcan, Ganymedes, Iris, Bacchus, and many others.

The stage was filled with pretty girls becomely dressed in Greek robes. Miss Farquhar, of Canada, assisted as the Yankee chaperone and made her lovely charms felt in spite of her spat with Juno, and her endless flow of talk. Miss Katharine Stuart was a successful Juno. Miss Fannie P. Vetter took the part of Jove, and Miss Annie Kinney, of Staunton, that of Vulcan. Miss Bernice Childers was the fascinating little Dixie Girl, and Miss Helen Withers was "Dick." Catchy little songs, also original, the music of which was written by Miss Conova, of the Institute, were interspersed. Misses Mary Clark, as Iris, were the soloists.

This is the fourth play written by Miss Caldwell, that has been presented in Abingdon, so that her reputation as a successful playwright has been established, and her friends look forward with pleasure to each renewed assurance of her talent.

Entertainments at Chatham. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] CHATHAM, VA., May 6.—The recital by the junior department of music and oratory at the Chatham Episcopal Institute Monday night was well attended by friends and patrons of the institute. The well arranged program was much enjoyed, the musical selections being interspersed with recitals, all of which were highly enjoyed. Selections from "San Toy" chorus was the opening of the second part of the program followed by a Japanese fan drill, which was the crowning event of the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wallace Noel entertained at whist Friday evening from 8:30 to 1. Six tables were filled, and the contest for honors of the evening at no time lacked enthusiasm, the one notable feature being the fondness of the gentlemen for the booby table. When counting time came Miss Helen Harrington, Pauline Duncan and Mr. J. H. Bolanz held equal number of stars, and to decide the winner the deck was resorted to, in which Miss Harrington fell heir to the first prize, a beautiful deck of cards. Miss Annie Pollok carried off the booby, a small bottle of catfish, with the legend, "Catch up," inscribed thereon. Cream, cakes, mints and salted peanuts were served.

Dance by Merry Maids. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] MEATHSVILLE, VA., May 6.—The dance given by the Merry Maids of Meathsville on Friday evening was one of the most delightful social functions of the season. Refreshments consisted of ice cream and cake. Those present were Misses Louise Blundon, Jessie Ball, Carrie Norris, Margarette Blundon, Genevieve, Essie and Margarette Smith, Chloe Snow, Alma Brent, Maude Irene and Katharine Neils, Garrett, Booker, Mamie Stoneham and Pawling Neils; Messrs. Eddie Blakemore, Cyrus Harding, R. B. Moore, Gordon and Robert Blundon, Earl Pussey, Ray Brent, James Harding, Fred Brent, Guy Harrison, R. O. Norris, E. H. Smith, O. G. Shirley, Doswell Clifton, Charles Sterling and Eddie Neils, Dr. W. H. Boyd. Mesdames Neils, Boyd and Sterling acted as chaperones.

Brooks-Smith. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] FREDERICKSBURG, VA., May 6.—Mr. Clinton Dunbar Brooks, of Richmond, county, and Miss Euphonia Smith, of this city, were married here to-day by Rev. Dr. R. J. McBryde, of the Episcopal Church. Miss Mary Anne Smith, Miss C. L. Lou Smith, Miss Florence Street and Miss Agnes DeShazo were the bridesmaids. After a trip to Florida and other points, the couple will reside at Carters, Va.

Muscle for Temperance Campaign. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] SALISBURY, N. C., May 6.—The prohibition forces in Salisbury are organizing a big choir to furnish music in the temperance campaign here during the coming weeks. Professor A. L. Ruby, of Ohio, has been employed to direct the music for the series of mammoth temperance meetings to be conducted by Rev. George Stewart, of Tennessee, Rev. H. W. J. Ham, of Georgia, and W. T. Rutledge, of New York.

Episcopal Convention of North Carolina Diocese Adopts Resolution Indorsing It.

STRONG OPPOSITION VOTE

Bishop Cheshire Presides Over Body and There Is Large Attendance.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] RALEIGH, N. C., May 6.—In the annual convention of the Diocese of North Carolina, Protestant Episcopal Church, here this evening, the Rev. E. A. Osborne, of Charlotte, introduced a resolution declaring that all Christian people should join in the present movement for State prohibition.

Captain John Wilkes, also of Charlotte, strenuously opposed the resolution, taking the ground that the movement in this State was a departure from the proper sphere of legislation and a misdirection of temperance effort. When the question was put the resolution was declared carried by the presiding officer, but there was a very considerable vote in opposition. No division was called for.

The convention has elected Dr. I. McK. Pittenger, of Raleigh, president, and the Rev. Julian E. Ingle, of Henderson, secretary and registrar.

Features of the Day.

Morning prayer, holy communion and opening sermon by the Rev. Henry T. Cooke, rector of St. Paul's Church, Winston-Salem; the formal organization, the announcement of committees for the session during the morning and afternoon sessions, and a mission-ary address at 8 P. M. by Mr. M. P. Walker, of St. John's Hospital, Shanghai, China, were the principal features of the first day of the convention, meeting with the Church of the Good Shepherd here.

Rev. James Blount Cheshire, D. D., bishop of the diocese, is presiding, and there are nearly 200 delegates representing about 105 parishes embraced in the diocese. Reports from the parishes and other work of the diocese show a marked advance over previous years, this showing to be accentuated and presented in concise form to-morrow through the bishop's annual address reviewing the work of the year and plans for the future.

Woman's Auxiliary.

The business sessions of the woman's auxiliary will be held to-morrow. Mrs. John Wilkes, of Charlotte, president, and Miss Kate Cheshire, of Tarboro, secretary. There are probably fifty or more delegates here already.

LOVELY MAY WEDDING.

Marriage of Mr. Parker and Miss Rumley in Washington, Notable Event.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] WASHINGTON, N. C., May 6.—A lovely May wedding was solemnized this evening in St. Peter's Episcopal Church, this city, when Miss Mary Parsons Rumley became the bride of Mr. Carl Denver Parker, also of this city. The stately old edifice, artistically decorated in daisies, roses and lilies, with a color scheme of green and white, together with numerous waxen tapers, shedding their tiny rays over the chancel and altar, produced a beautiful effect. Promptly at 9 o'clock, in the inspiring strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, skillfully rendered by Miss Lillian Bonner on the organ, and Professor W. E. Smith, on the violin, the bridal party entered the church.

Immediately preceding the bridal party were the ushers, viz., Messrs. F. S. Worthy, John G. Bragaw, Jr., C. B. Bell and W. Murray Jones, who passed down the aisle, taking their respective places at the foot of the chancel. First entered the bridesmaids—Misses Martha Morton, Claudia Simmons, Martha Allen and Ellen G. Parker, sister of the groom, attired in white Paris muslin, and carrying bouquets of white carnations and maidenhair ferns. Next came the maid of honor, Miss Mildred Rumley, sister of the bride, wearing white china silk, and carrying sweet peas. The groomsmen—Messrs. W. B. Wilson, J. E. G. Barrett and William Rumley—entered from the vestry-room and assumed their places at the foot of the chancel. The bride, exquisitely crowned in white satin "enchantment" hand embroidered, with pearls, and wearing bridal veil, with coronet of orange blossoms, and carrying a shower bouquet of Bride's roses, entered leaning on the arm of her father, Mr. Gilbert Rumley, who gave her away.

At the foot of the chancel the bride was met by the groom with his best man, Mr. John D. Callis, and together they entered the chancel and stood before the altar, where Rev. Nathaniel Harding spoke the words according to the Episcopal ceremony making them man and wife.

The out-of-town guests at the wedding were Misses Martha Allen, of Kingston; Nannie Smith, of Williams- ton; Nannie Laroque, of Kingston; Mrs. J. A. Paris, of Wilson; Mrs. Herbert of Morehead City; Messrs. Walter B. Wilson, Jr., of Greenville; E. G. Barrett, of Kingston, and Caleb Bell, of Shawboro, N. C.

WORK ON WATTS HOSPITAL.

Excavation Begun and Construction by Contractor Wilson Soon to Start.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] DURHAM, N. C., May 6.—The first step toward the erection of the new Watts Hospital in this city, to cost $250,000, has been taken. The work yesterday was the clearing up of the ground preparatory to the laying of the foundation for the immense structure. This contract is in charge of Messrs. Christian & Beall, who will soon have a full force of hands at work, and believe this part will be completed within four months. The first work is the excavation, and this will be followed by the concrete work. The walls will be built above the ground, and with the completion of this Contractor John T. Wilson, of Richmond, Va., will begin the actual erection of the buildings, which will cost $200,000.

Preparing for Unveiling. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] SALISBURY, N. C., May 6.—Everything is in readiness for the reception of the large delegation of Maine citizens who come to Salisbury Friday for the unveiling of a monument to the Maine dead buried here. The party left Nhalhaven, Me., last night, and will reach this city Friday morning. The party will return North by way of Richmond and Washington.
